First Genuine Lead Response Runbook

Private operator response, acceptance, and escalation controls

STATUS	DATE	DATA
READY / NOT YET OBSERVED	August 15, 2026	No genuine customer PII

These are internal operating targets, not public response-time guarantees.

Immediate triage

1. Confirm is_test=false and all QA markers are absent.
2. Confirm communication suppression reflects the submitted consent; never remove suppression merely to make follow-up easier.
3. Confirm one canonical lead and one local WordPress entry when WordPress is the source.
4. Confirm source, campaign, landing page, form/placement, click IDs, consent, score, assignment, and routing reason.
5. Confirm the internal notification is sent and has a provider message ID.
6. Confirm no duplicate lead or duplicate message exists.
7. Start the assignment timer.

Targets and escalation

State	Target	Escalation
Assignment acceptance	Within 2 minutes	Mike/admin alert; mark unaccepted_assignment
First human contact	Within 5 minutes when consent permits	Mike/admin alert; mark first_contact_sla_breach
Failed email	Immediate	Keep lead stored; retry with bounded backoff; mark notification_failed
Unassigned lead	Immediate	Assign to Mike or unassigned_admin_review; store routing reason
Duplicate suspicion	Before contact	Link to master; preserve prior owner; do not double-contact

Invalid contact	Before contact	Mark invalid field, preserve record, request admin review
Out of area	Before advice	Mark out_of_area_review; do not promise coverage
Coastal request	Before advice	Mark coastal_review; no unapproved territory claims

Human outcome recording

Record attempted, contacted, appointment, nurture, signed client, closing, bad lead, and attributed revenue only when they actually occur. Never rewrite a live lead as QA, delete it for dashboard cleanliness, or use it for testing.

Protected legacy entry

WordPress Form 7 entry 1550 is not the canonical first-live test case. It is a genuine, consent-restricted or unclear legacy request preserved outside Neon because Form 7 is intentionally not allowlisted. Do not use it as QA, subscribe it retroactively, or contact it for marketing. Preserve it for purpose-limited BIC review while the canonical first-genuine-lead monitor watches only durable, unsuppressed, non-test Neon records with valid source and consent evidence.
